About Me

I am a freelance BBC-trained multi-camera studio and outside broadcast television director, with more than twenty five years of directing experience.

I specialise in live sport presentation, with a particular focus on my favourite events: motorsport, tennis and athletics. In addition, I have worked on a range of major multi-sport events including Paris 2024 and Milano-Cortina 2026, and my TV directing career has earned me credits on all the main UK channels.

I have a background in television news, and have directed shows in a range of genres including children's, entertainment, and current affairs, as well as directing the international feed for the funeral of HM Queen Elizabeth II.

I am flexible, creative, and comfortable working with both high-profile and inexperienced talent.

I am technically astute, and at ease with varied production workflows, remote operations and automation systems.
